

Onesimus, a runaway slave and thief becomes a Christian. Paul sends him back to his master with a letter telling of his change and asking for forgiveness.

Use your finger puppets to act out the following or think up your own:

- What to do when someone accidentally hurts you or when you accidentally hurt someone
 - They were running and one person wasn't watching and crashed into the other person
 - They were playing ball and one person threw the ball and it accidentally hits the other person
 - They were riding bikes and accidentally crashed into each other
- What to do when someone makes you angry
 - One person has worked very hard on a picture and the other accidentally knocks over a glass of water and ruins it
 - One person takes the ball the other was playing with
 - One person keeps annoying the other person until they become angry
- What to do when someone is angry with you
 - One person took the last biscuit and the other is angry because they wanted it
 - One person is riding the other persons bike when they crash and break the bike
- How to make a new people feel welcome
 - A new person has come to church and they are standing by the door just watching
 - A new family comes to visit in the other persons house
 - A new person is watching the other kids play handball
